

Storebrand Tax Policy

Storebrand will comply with the tax legislation in the countries where the Group operates. In the event of transactions or arrangements where Storebrand does not perceive the law to be adequately clear, information shall be disclosed to the tax authorities. In some situations one will seek to clarify the issue in advance through dialogue or the request for a binding advance statement. Tax disclosures are made in accordance with domestic regulations and any relevant reporting guidelines and standards, including IFRS.

Storebrand invests globally on behalf of their clients to ensure a well-diversified portfolio, and is concerned that the investee companies are sustainable. This implies that one seek to avoid investing in companies that are involved in corruption and economic crime, including tax evasion.
